The 30th Olympic Games comes to London in July 2012. Just before then in the June half term the 63rd WhitCamp comes to Ballingham, midway between Ross and Hereford. Many struggled to get tickets for the Olympics and will miss out.....so make sure you don't miss out on WhitCamp by booking today.

If you've not been before ask someone who has or visit the website. Our stadium of white tents are built up on the bank of the River Wye ready for five nights of fun and laughter (health warning: the funny stories don't win many medals!) But our Team GB of cooks produce gold medal food and there's a tuck shop for those who like a marathon. The river is great for kayaking but you do need to qualify by passing the simple swimming test. The expeditions downstream are great as are the mountain bikes in the velodrome forest!

There is so much to do if you like track and field or playing football all day. But for those who want to chill and forget sport, WhitCamp is a wow for you as well.

Some Olympians want to come back again and again and many return to WhitCamp year after year, so whether you are on your own or in a group you will make loads of friends as well as learning something of the Christian life.

We cannot guarantee gold or silver medals but if you book we can promise a fantastic weekend, so get you place now!
